directions:

Begin by inflating the foil balloon with helium. Be sure to use the proper inflation nozzle.

Make a double-stuffed balloon by inserting a plastic stick or straw into the black skeleton latex. Wrap the balloon tightly around the stick and hold in place. Now take the clear LINK-O-LOON® and place over the balloon using the plastic stick to help guide insertion.

Pump ULTRA HI-FLOAT® into the balloon. For more information on ULTRA HI-FLOAT®, please watch the video on the education section of our website. Massage the ULTRA HI-FLOAT® in the balloon to ensure even coverage.

Now use the latex inflation nozzle to inflate the double stuffed balloon. To tie a double-stuffed balloon, pull out the neck of the inner balloon and tie into a knot AROUND the neck of the outer balloon.

Next, inflate the 8-5" balloons. You can use a Holey Box sizer to guarantee that each balloon is inflated to exactly the same size.

Take two of the balloons and tie the necks together to form a duplet. Make another duplet being sure that all are inflated to the same size. Twist the two duplets together to form a cluster. Repeat again to end up with two identical clusters. Take one of the clusters and attach to the bottom of the double-stuffed balloon by wrapping the neck around the cluster.

Next take the stinger of the LINK-O-LOON® and tie to the tab on the foil skull. Take the second cluster and affix under the skull to hide where the two are tied together.

As this piece is helium-filled, you'll need to properly weigh it down. Tie an uninflated 260 balloon through the loop on a heavy weight and tie into the bottom cluster. Your greeter is now ready to meet your guests or trick-or-treaters!
